WELCOME

It is a great pleasure to welcome you to the Madison 2019 PACE Professional Development Forum. The PACE Management Team are excited to bring you today's fantastic programme of topics and speakers.

A special thanks to the PACE Forum Committee (Rebecca Dobbs, Ciaran Hyslop and Andrea Tonner) who have worked extremely hard, volunteering their time and energy to organise the event.

We have had a lot of support from our sponsors and I would like to take this opportunity to thank them on behalf of PACE. Their support is invaluable in bringing this event to you today. Please take the time to meet and chat with them during breaks.

We want you to get the most out of today, whether it's learning something new, connecting with someone you haven't met before or enjoying a day away from the office. Feel free to contribute, ask questions - get involved and be inspired - most of all have a great day!

THE FUTURE OF WORK

FRANCES VALINTINE, FUTURIST

Frances is the Founder & CEO of The Mind Lab & Tech Futures Lab and is a passionate educator and technologist. The Mind Lab, which she founded in 2013, was developed to empower students and educators to develop applied digital knowledge and capability.

In 2016 Frances launched Tech Futures Lab to support individuals, organisations and government to navigate the impact of technological advancement and cultural change in the workplace. Frances has been widely recognised for her lifetime of contribution in education and technology.

FOLLOW THE LEADER

ROSEMARY KILLIP, SWITCHED ON LEARNING

As an EA to a Chief Executive you are a leader, whether you know it or not. In your day job you may be leading projects, groups or staff on behalf of your senior. However, leading without the title can be problematic. Together we will share tips and tools to ignite your super person powers to get stuff done (and get people doing what you want)!

Rosie brings decades of experience, working across industries, organisations, and with business owners to bring greater productivity, better communication, and more understanding of what makes a productive, high performing team!

COMMUNICATING POWERFULLY

JEN TYSON, SWITCHED ON LEARNING

Communicating powerfully for greater influence, better productivity, richer work relationships and a more connected culture.

Visionary and energetic, Jen is brilliant at teaching people how to communicate better, as managers, leaders, organisations, businesses, and within teams, helping them navigate and master the art of communication both internally and externally.

PRINCIPLES OF PROJECT MANAGEMENT

RON ECKMAN, APEX PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Ron Eckman specialises in project management consulting and training and is one of New Zealand's most experienced project management trainers. He has 30 years of Project Management teaching experience to over 15,000 people in New Zealand from over 160 different organisations. He has also taught project management in Australia, USA and the UK. Ron regularly teaches at Victoria and Massey University.

KEYNOTE

DR PAUL WOODS

Paul spends most of his time facilitating leadership and emotional intelligence focused programmes across the private and public sectors. He works with everyone from the Hurricanes to Central Agencies of government. His charitable interests see him visit prisons and act as patron for START Taranaki, which helps at risk young men turn their lives around. Paul is also a regular contributor to the media.

Paul's presentation style is dynamic, humorous, and deeply authentic. He speaks to the human experience and provides practical insight on topics such as our capacity for change, how to cope with uncertainty, how to build mental toughness and resilience, the importance of self-reflection and personal accountability in growth, how to identify and maximize our potential, and how to turn adversity to your advantage.
